Prepare both a summary paragraph and a general description of the resource and its various elements as it exists today.

This two story building appears to have served as a church or a community meeting hall in the 20th century. In form, it appears to match other buildings in lower southern Maryland which served as "social clubs" in black communities. Access through one window showed that interior trim, including tongue-and-groove vertical wainscoting, and door trim, appeared intact.
